Advice to Contributors

The editorial panel welcomes contributions in the form of original articles, letters, reports and reviews. AEC provides a vehicle for the publication of articles for which a national audience is appropriate. These fall into a number of categories. There are articles relating to research in the educational computing field and which are likely to be of interest to a wide cross-section of readers. These may come as follow-up papers from keynote speakers at national conferences, or might be the results of Australian or international research. In addition there are a number of educators who are exploring new ideas about the use of computers in the classroom and who are writing articles of national interest. The journal may contain reprints articles from some international journals such as ISITE and IFIP, however the majority of articles should be Australian content.

Refereed Reviewed Papers

Papers contributed for the Refereed Reviewed sections will be anonymously refereed by at least two members of the Editorial Board. All submitted material will pass through an editorial phase to maintain journal standards and balanced coverage. All articles accepted may be published in both print and electronic forms. All material is copyright unless otherwise stated in writing and may not be reproduced in any form without the permission of the editor. Opinions expressed by contributors do not necessarily represent the views of the editorial panel or the Australian Council for Computers in Education. The Australian Council for Computers in Education does not endorse products or services advertised in this journal.
