About This Issue

This issue marks the ninth year that the current team has produced AEC and with the completion of the next issue, AEC will have been published for 20 years. This is quite an achievement for a journal that has throughout its history been produced by amateurs at publishing in their spare time.

Over the past nine years a lot has happened that has impacted upon AEC not the least of which has been the arrival of Web based journals. These new breed of academic journals have had the effect of taking many of our academic writers often leading to much thinner issues than those of the past.

To the hundreds of authors who have sent us articles over the years, whether they gained publication or not, a very big thank you. Without you there would be no AEC.

So to the teachers, teacher educators and academics of Australia let me make this request. This is your journal - it is produced by ACCE for you. Academics, send us your papers, they are peer refereed and thus will count for your research activity. Teachers tell us what is happening in your classroom, how are you using technology with your kids, let others learn from you.

Erratum

My apologies to Gary Severinson his article managed to lose its accreditation at some point in the production of the last issue so it is reproduced here.
